

THYLL GOES FREE.

The Charge of Larceny Thrown Out of Court.

The Baron and His Actress Wife Will Be Married Again.

This Will Be Done to Satisfy His Mother-in-Law.

Arthur K. Thyll, whose secret marriage with Lillian Cummings, the actress, caused such surprise, was in the Tombs Police Court this morning, a prisoner.

His bride, attired in a traveling costume, sat beside him for several hours before the case was called. When finally the charge of larceny, which had been preferred against him, was dismissed, she felt, as she expressed it, like weeping for joy.

She did, in fact, lay her head on his shoulder a moment. Then the two, with Lawyer Sullivan, of Blake & Sullivan, who had defended him, left the courtroom together.

Everything will now end happily. Whether Thyll's marriage with Cummings has been given out, does not matter, he says, by the way, that he does not care a fig for her, and that he is too democratic to ever attempt to use a title.

Mamma Cummings, who raised such a protest when the fact of her daughter's marriage was first made known to her, told a reporter who called upon her at 150 West Thirty-fourth street this morning that she would insist upon the marriage being recondemned her presence, otherwise she would never rest satisfied.

"This," said Thyll, trying to lighten his wife's shadow in court, this morning, "is my last wedding day."

"If her mother wants the marriage recondemned," he said, "I will be happy to do so. We will accept it in every way."

"Yes," chimed in Miss Cummings that was, "Of course, we did wrong in this case. We will accept it in every way."

He could not very well explain in this morning why he waited two years to get a warrant for Thyll's arrest.

Lawyer Sullivan for Thyll denied the charge altogether. He first pointed out that a complaint was filed by Thyll, Klee and Smith, and that even if Thyll had received $20 there would be no criminal charge, as the money was characterized by the charge as the essence of absurdity, and said that in court this morning, he would offer to withdraw it for the $10. Of course the suggestion was rejected.

Thyll took the witness stand and denied he had ever received the $20. He said, however, that he had often paid Schneider several sums of money for work done. Then the case was adjourned for another day.

Afterwards the "Baron" denied that his mother-in-law was in any way responsible for the arrest. He said he was now out of the Electric City Company, and had been negotiating for other patents to rival companies. He claimed that it was a personal matter, and that he had injured him with them.

Thyll said he did not know just when the marriage would take place, but it would be just as soon as his mother-in-law wished it and whatever place she liked.

When the reporter saw Mrs. Cummings, she said she had received a letter from her daughter last night saying she would surely call upon him this afternoon.

The couple intend staying at the Park Avenue Hotel for a few days.

Local News in Brief.
J. J. Conner, Commissioner of Investigation, has decided to issue the wages of carpenters on Ellis Island to $1.50 a week.

William Kennedy, a laborer, four years old, was sent to the Tombs for two days for being in the Tombs Market Court for beating his wife.

In the Essex Market Court today William Kelly, of 14 East 10th street, was charged with stealing $50 from Frank Stahl, a roomer.

Inspector McAvoy, after an investigation this morning, refused to prefer charges against Patrick McGee, a New York City street boy, charged with stealing two loaves.

Thomas Horn, aged thirteen, of 422 Eighth avenue, was charged with stealing a bicycle from the home of a woman living at 422 Eighth avenue.

The Essex Market Court today William Kelly, of 14 East 10th street, was charged with stealing $50 from Frank Stahl, a roomer.

Inspector McAvoy, after an investigation this morning, refused to prefer charges against Patrick McGee, a New York City street boy, charged with stealing two loaves.

Thomas Horn, aged thirteen, of 422 Eighth avenue, was charged with stealing a bicycle from the home of a woman living at 422 Eighth avenue.

The Essex Market Court today William Kelly, of 14 East 10th street, was charged with stealing $50 from Frank Stahl, a roomer.

Inspector McAvoy, after an investigation this morning, refused to prefer charges against Patrick McGee, a New York City street boy, charged with stealing two loaves.

Thomas Horn, aged thirteen, of 422 Eighth avenue, was charged with stealing a bicycle from the home of a woman living at 422 Eighth avenue.

MIXON'S SUIT DID NOT FIT. AN ANTI-GLEASON FACTION.

So He Threw the Dealer and Threw Clothing About.

Now Indignant Mrs. Adler Gets Papers for His Arrest.

This Will Be Done to Satisfy His Mother-in-Law.

Mrs. Rebecca Adler applied in the Essex Market Court, today, for a warrant for the arrest of N. Mixon, a laborer, of 28 Harrison street. She was referred to the Essex Market Court, where she got the papers.

Mrs. Adler and her husband keep two second-hand stores, one at Thirteenth avenue and the other at 28 Harrison street. A week ago he picked out a suit of clothes, which would cost him $14 and promised to send for it as soon as he got the money.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

Mixon did not feel like stirring out of the house Saturday night. He said he had a headache and was tired. He said he had a headache and was tired.

JUDGE KAVANAGH AND HIS FRIENDS WILL FIGHT THE EX-MAYOR.

The Split in the Gleason Party Is the Result of Gleason's Opposition to the Reorganization of the Present Assembly.

War to the Knife Against Their Old Political Allies.

This Will Be Done to Satisfy His Mother-in-Law.

There was a stormy time at the meeting of the regular Democratic Committee, otherwise known as the Gleason organization, last night at Gleason's office, 112 Front street, Long Island City.

The meeting broke up in an uproar, and it was resolved by Saloon-keepers Killen, Thomas Hunt and M. J. Schmidt to start an anti-Gleason party, to bolt the Gleason organization, with Police Justice Kavanagh as the leader.

Gleason accuses these two of treachery to his supporters and of being in league with the Sanford administration, and says that their attempt to split up forces is made at the suggestion of the Jeffersonian organization.

Gleason accuses Kavanagh of going to Albany last January and lobbying in the interest of Sanford legislation and voting to defeat bills which if passed would benefit the Gleason Democracy.

He accuses Kavanagh of betraying his friends in passing these bills. Last night at the meeting, Gleason made an attempt to oust Kavanagh and Robinson from the organization.

His attempt was in the shape of a resolution directing that a committee consisting of one from each ward be appointed to investigate the conduct of candidates who betrayed the organization.

Saloon-keeper Killen protested, and the resolution was lost by a vote of 26 to 10.

A resolution was then adopted by the Judge Kavanagh faction changing the place of meeting of the Committee from 112 Front street to some other place, to be agreed upon hereafter.

The new organization of Judge Kavanagh will be known as the "Democratic Party of the First Ward" and will be led by James Killen.

The new organization of Judge Kavanagh will be known as the "Democratic Party of the First Ward" and will be led by James Killen.

The new organization of Judge Kavanagh will be known as the "Democratic Party of the First Ward" and will be led by James Killen.

The new organization of Judge Kavanagh will be known as the "Democratic Party of the First Ward" and will be led by James Killen.

The new organization of Judge Kavanagh will be known as the "Democratic Party of the First Ward" and will be led by James Killen.

The new organization of Judge Kavanagh will be known as the "Democratic Party of the First Ward" and will be led by James Killen.

The new organization of Judge Kavanagh will be known as the "Democratic Party of the First Ward" and will be led by James Killen.

The new organization of Judge Kavanagh will be known as the "Democratic Party of the First Ward" and will be led by James Killen.

The new organization of Judge Kavanagh will be known as the "Democratic Party of the First Ward" and will be led by James Killen.

The new organization of Judge Kavanagh will be known as the "Democratic Party of the First Ward" and will be led by James Killen.

The new organization of Judge Kavanagh will be known as the "Democratic Party of the First Ward" and will be led by James Killen.

The new organization of Judge Kavanagh will be known as the "Democratic Party of the First Ward" and will be led by James Killen.

The new organization of Judge Kavanagh will be known as the "Democratic Party of the First Ward" and will be led by James Killen.

The new organization of Judge Kavanagh will be known as the "Democratic Party of the First Ward" and will be led by James Killen.

The new organization of Judge Kavanagh will be known as the "Democratic Party of the First Ward" and will be led by James Killen.

The new organization of Judge Kavanagh will be known as the "Democratic Party of the First Ward" and will be led by James Killen.

The new organization of Judge Kavanagh will be known as the "Democratic Party of the First Ward" and will be led by James Killen.

The new organization of Judge Kavanagh will be known as the "Democratic Party of the First Ward" and will be led by James Killen.

D. WILLIAMS & CO.

125TH ST. AND 3D AVE.

Wednesday and Thursday, September 27 and 28.

MILLINERY, SILKS, DRESS GOODS AND CLOAKS.

And all other departments represented with new and desirable goods, at popular prices, to suit the times.

N. B.—Have no private or special opening. The public in general are invited. No class distinction.

Will Delia Keegan Fail?

Her Suit Against Russell Sage Imperilled by Her Delay.

Must Answer as to the Statute of Limitations To-Morrow.

Delia Keegan's suit against Russell Sage to recover $50,000 damages for breach of promise of marriage assumed a peculiar phase when it came up in the Court of Common Pleas today before Judge Pryor upon motion of Lawyer Marshall to strike out the second paragraph of the complaint.

During the time that she was engaged to be married to him, she was not a pure woman; that she had been brought up before different police magistrates during the last twenty years, and passed a good part of the time in the Kings County Jail, and that for the purpose of concealing her identity, before these magistrates she assumed other names.

It was urged that these allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

It was also urged that the allegations in the answer of Mr. Sage were irrelevant and scandalous, and that they should be stricken out, as they were not necessary to the pleading, and evidence on this point had not been introduced.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY.

Occurs this week to obtain a substantial and elegantly finished S. Deboard at 1-2 ITS ACTUAL VALUE. SO DON'T FAIL TO DROP IN AND SEE US AT ONCE.

Jordan, Moriarty & Co.,

155, 157 AND 159 EAST 23D ST., FURNITURE, CARPETS, &c.

ONLY 8.98;

Worth at Least $15.00.

Accommodation if desired.

LOOK INTO THIS.

A big store, located where all expenses are low, a firm with unlimited capital, why can't we buy and sell cheap? We do; an inspection will convince you.

FURNITURE, CARPETS, Bedding, Stoves, Pictures, Clocks, Curtains, Baby Carriages, etc. Liberal credit extended to all, with or Without Cash Deposit

J. BAUMANN & BRO.,

1313 to 1315 Third Ave., bet. 75th and 76th Sts.

Highwaymen in the Park.

Italian Held Up in Daylight Near the City Hall.

By the Merest Chance One of His Assaultants Was Caught.

The Grand Jury convened somewhat earlier this morning than in their usual custom, and at once went into active session, the first order of business being the consideration of the affairs of the Coroner's office.

Today's investigation promises to be a very thorough one. Only one other case will be brought before the Grand Jury to be acted upon. That is a homicide case, and the papers showing the testimony taken at the Coroner's inquest were sent to the District Attorney's office yesterday.

It is said that the case was disposed of in the Coroner's Court some months ago.

Up to the present time Coroner Shea, McKean, Schuchman, Stenographer Strasser and Clerk Reynolds, Hart and Murray have appeared before the Grand Jury, and the papers of the Coroner's office as attended to by them.

According to their statements, there has been no laxity in the methods of the Board of Coroner's. They endeavored to follow the law, and that their office was "up to date."

The books of the Coroner's office, which have been examined at the Grand Jury, and it is reported that they are not up to the mark.

While the Grand Jurors were probing into the Coroner's office, Stenographer Strasser and Clerk Reynolds and Murray have appeared before the Grand Jury, and the papers of the Coroner's office as attended to by them.

According to their statements, there has been no laxity in the methods of the Board of Coroner's. They endeavored to follow the law, and that their office was "up to date."

The books of the Coroner's office, which have been examined at the Grand Jury, and it is reported that they are not up to the mark.

While the Grand Jurors were probing into the Coroner's office, Stenographer Strasser and Clerk Reynolds and Murray have appeared before the Grand Jury, and the papers of the Coroner's office as attended to by them.

According to their statements, there has been no laxity in the methods of the Board of Coroner's. They endeavored to follow the law, and that their office was "up to date."

The books of the Coroner's office, which have been examined at the Grand Jury, and it is reported that they are not up to the mark.

While the Grand Jurors were probing into the Coroner's office, Stenographer Strasser and Clerk Reynolds and Murray have appeared before the Grand Jury, and the papers of the Coroner's office as attended to by them.

According to their statements, there has been no laxity in the methods of the Board of Coroner's. They endeavored to follow the law, and that their office was "up to date."

The books of the Coroner's office, which have been examined at the Grand Jury, and it is reported that they are not up to the mark.

While the Grand Jurors were probing into the Coroner's office, Stenographer Strasser and Clerk Reynolds and Murray have appeared before the Grand Jury, and the papers of the Coroner's office as attended to by them.

According to their statements, there has been no laxity in the methods of the Board of Coroner's. They endeavored to follow the law, and that their office was "up to date."

The books of the Coroner's office, which have been examined at the Grand Jury, and it is reported that they are not up to the mark.

While the Grand Jurors were probing into the Coroner's office, Stenographer Strasser and Clerk Reynolds and Murray have appeared before the Grand Jury, and the papers of the Coroner's office as attended to by them.

According to their statements, there has been no laxity in the methods of the Board of Coroner's. They endeavored to follow the law, and that their office was "up to date."

The books of the Coroner's office, which have been examined at the Grand Jury, and it is reported that they are not up to the mark.

While the Grand Jurors were probing into the Coroner's office, Stenographer Strasser and Clerk Reynolds and Murray have appeared before the Grand Jury, and the papers of the Coroner's office as attended to by them.

According to their statements, there has been no laxity in the methods of the Board of Coroner's. They endeavored to follow the law, and that their office was "up to date."

The books of the Coroner's office, which have been examined at the Grand Jury, and it is reported that they are not up to the mark.

WINDING UP.

OF THE GREAT FIRE SALE

OF THE

Fifth Ave. Carpet & Furniture Co.

THIS IS THE TIME TO GET BARGAINS.

The balance of the stock must be disposed of, as the building is to be altered at once.

It will pay out-of-town people to visit this

GENUINE FIRE SALE

Fifth Ave. Carpet & Furniture Co.,

Cor. 4th St. & 5th Ave.

BLOOD POISON

HENRY MANNES & SONS, ARTISTIC HOME FURNISHERS.

SPECIAL THIS WEEK.

WHITE ENAMELED BEDSTEADS, $8.00.

Furniture, Carpets, Curtains.

BRASS AND ENAMELED BEDSTEADS, NOVELTIES IN BAMBOO, BIRCH AND SYCAMORE SUITS, ODD TASTY PARLOR

CREDIT EXTENDED

Terms to Suit Your Own Convenience.

HENRY MANNES & SONS,

429 and 431 Eighth Ave., Between 31st and 32d Sts.